Apology to Heidi Cousineau

1. Chair Wilson explained that Donna Flagg was unable to access MA Teachers Retirement Board (MTRB) to file reports as had former Treasurer Heidi Cousineau had difficulty in the past. Vice-Chair Gleason stated that none of the three past parties in the Treasurer's position were able to easily log into the MTRB system. Selectman Abbott stated that Sue Williams, in her capacity as Interim Treasurer, was eventually able to log into MTRB.
2. Audit Report states that Treasurer's Cash Book was not located. Heidi was not able to work in City & Town so had to create and maintain a separate spread sheet. She reported handing it in, however, it was not found for the audit until yesterday, when Chair Wilson located it in a locked cabinet in the Select Board Office. In addition, a flash drive was found with Heidi Cousineau's work which contained Treasurer's cash books and monthly reconciliation statements that were found in a locked cabinet in Treasurer's office. Sue Gleason provided information regarding Trust funds that were stored in the library including the origins and permitted uses of each of the library funds and that copies of will, probate accounts and other photocopies are on record at the Library.
 - a.) There was discussion about whether or not to issue an apology to Heidi Cousineau for prior Select Board complaints regarding her performance. Selectman Abbott stated that this was a delicate issue and that there were more issues involved than the discussion regarding her performance. He also stated that by implication if the issue was not on the Treasurer's side that he hoped this apology would not lead to the conclusion that the former Town Accountant was the cause of MTRB issues. Marilyn Wilson stated there was no such implication.

Motion to Issue Apology: Following discussion, Chair Wilson made a motion to issue an apology to Heidi Cousineau for prior charges against her performance as there were circumstances that have proved to be beyond her control. The motion, seconded by Vice-Chair Gleason, was accepted. Selectman Abbott abstained from the vote. 2/0/1.
